Shot-Notes, By Telegraph to The Times. LISBON, Jan. 14.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The government has sent circular note to the powers relative to the dispute with England. It alleges that Eng-land did not wait for the reply of Senhor Gomez of January 10th to the note of Lord Salisbury, but submitted her ultimatum on the mere report that Maj. Serpa Pinto had disobeyed the telegraphic orders sent him by the Portuguese government in compli-ance with the wishes of Salisbury. Maj. Pinto, they say, quitted Nyassaland and Pinto, they say, quitted Nyassaiand and the Shire district three weeks ago, some time prior to the sending of the orders, and is now sick at Mozambique. sent a company of artillery to arrest the in-surrectionists. They opened fire on the soldiers, and it was reported that over 100 of them were killed.

The correspondent of C. R. Flint writes from Rio de Janerio, under date of Decem-ber 23d: "The outlook here just now is not reassuring. Last evening parts of two regiments of artillery mutinied, tore up the republican fing and hoisted the old imperial flag, and it required all the other regiments, ilag, and it required all the other regiments, cavalry, infantry and artillery to subdue them. They fought till after 12 o'clock, and 100 of the rebels were killed and wounded before the rest surrendered. On the next day 21 of the ringleaders were shot. The trouble was owing to dissatisfaction of the soldiers with their pay. It is said a number of the old Conservatives and Liberals have been tampering with the soldiers and were at the bottom of the row, and several prominent citizens have been arrested in connection with last night's affair."

STANLEY AT CAIRO.

The Explorer Warmly Welcomed by the Khedive. CAIRO, Jan. 14.—Henry M. Stanley and his party did not stop over at Suez, as it was reported they would, but proceeded for this city, where they arrived this morning. They were greeted upon their arrival by Gen. Grenfell, commander of the Egyptian troops, and Baring, the British Consul-Gen-eral. troops, and Baring, the British Consul-General.

Stanley said that Emin Pasha was animated with a desire to serve the Egyptian government, and some appointment would be the best medicine for him. The Knedive assenting, Stanley suggested that Emin be employed in a purely administrative capacity at Su kim, Wady Halfa, or wherever it was desired to conciliate the natives. Emin, he said, would be invaluable with a strong executive in other hands. The Khedive promised to telegraph for Emin Pasha.

Stanley speaks enthusiastically of all his own officers. The terms upon which the Soudan was abandoned, he said, amounted to a political crime. The wisdom of choosing the Congo route had been incontestably proved.

A call was made at the house of Creed Hail, but Pointer had gone with Elder Hunt to the house of Ralph Divans to visit Miss Amanda Divans, who had been confined to her bed for four months with dropsy. There he was found. Divans answered the knock at the door, and was told that they had come to arrest Pointer. Divans begged them not to make a disturbance, as his daughter was sick. New Trial Refused to Burke, Coughlin and O'Sullivan.

Little Kunze Has Better Luck and Will Probably Be Released.

The Three Doomed Murderers Safe Behind the Bars at Joliet-The Supreme Court is Their Only Hope

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] In Judge McConnell's court this norning arguments were made on the mo-lon of the Cronin prisoners for a new trial. Judge McConnell this afternoon granted he motion of John Kunze for a new trial. but denied the application as to the princi-pal defendants, Martin Burke, Daniel Coughlin and Patrick O'Sullivan. Judge McConnell, in his decision, said, in part: "I think it would be a mere pre-Jugge McConneil, in his decision, said, in part: "I think it would be a mere pretense for me to take more time to deliberate on this matter. I would not arrive at any different conclusion in several days than I have now. It has weighed upon my mind during the trial that the defendants should have a fair trial. Since its conclusion it has weighed upon my mind whether they had a fair trial, whether the jury had reached such a conclusion, that within the limits of the law a judge has a just one. It was a just one. Judge Wing surgested that the defendants were prejudiced by not having been granted separate trials, yet the trial disproves this, because the theory generally accepted by the public and urged by the State, that a conspiracy was formed in Camp 20, was not accepted by the jury, of course it was more satisfactory to the trial Judge to have a jury of men absolutely without an opinion as to the merits of a case, and this course was followed in securing the first four jurors, but was dropped when it became evident that it would be impossible to obtain such a jury in the county. I am convinced that if any one watched the manner of the trial Judge during this trial they would have been certain that the Court was determined to have a fair jury. As to the evidence, the Judge is not called upon to say whether if on the jury he would have come to the same conclusion. As to one of these defendants I am convinced that the evidence is unsufficient. The first evidence against John Kunze is that of James, who saw him in a window across the street and never saw him again until in court. I do not think his identification is reliable. I also discredit the identification of William Mertes, who is limited the court of the trial politics some way—it is not necessary to even conjecture how—but there is not true. tense for me to take more time to deliber-hese facts with his interest as the facts with his interest as that he might have been in mastreet flat and all other pieces, each have been innocent. I believe the vidence, but was an absurdity. As to ther defendants, I overrule the motion a new trial."

KUNZE MADE HAPPY. Little Kunze was on his feet in an instant, blurting out in his broken English: "Thank Little Kunze was on his feet han instant, blurting out in his broken English: "Thank you, your Honor; I am very much obliged for your kindness."

"You are not indebted to me for any kindness," said the Court. "Is there any motion for arrest of judgment?" asked the Court.

Mr. Forrest knew of no ground for one, but made it to have it on record. The Court overruled it, and asked if the prisoner had anything to say.

There was a moment of suspense, and then Coughlin arose and said in firm tones: "Your Honor, I am innocent. I was convicted by perjurers."

O'Sullivan's voice trembled slightly as he said: "I have not much to say. I protest my innocence before God and man, and the time is not far distant when it will be shown. I was convicted by a prejudiced jury and prejudiced evidence. I do not ask for mercy; I ask for justice."

Burke stopped chewing gum long enough to say: "I am innocent. I always knew that in England they allow perjurers to go on the stand and convict innocent men, but I never knew it was done in America."

SENTENCED FOR LIFE.

A moment's slience followed, and then the Court said: "Will the prisoners rise?"

the Court said: "Will the prisoners rise?"
The three men arose again, and the Court imposed sentence in the following words:
"Following and conforming to the verdict of the jury, the judgment of the Court is that you be taken to the penitentiary at Joliet and there be confined for the term of your natural lives."

Coughlin and Burke heard the words without a change of countenance, but O'Sullivan's lips quivered, and his face had a worn, pinched expression. The defense was granted 60 days to file a bill of exceptions. It was announced that Lawyers Forrest, Donohoe and Wing had been retained to take the case to the Supreme Court in the March term.

Forrest asked for the usual stay of execution until a supersedeas could be secured. The State's Attorney protested vigoreusly.

tained to take the case to the Supreme Court in the March term.

Forrest asked for the usual stay of execution until a supersedeas could be secured. The State's Attorney protested vigorously, demanding that the prisoners be sent at once to Jollet.

Judge McConnell intimated that he would be willing to grant a stay for the sake of humanity, if he were sure he had authority to do so, saying that he had given the matter some attention and could find no authority. Forrest made quite an extended appeal, showing what injustice would be done if the defendants were compelled to go to the penitentiary and were afterward given a new trial and acquitted. He also said that the other judges of Cook county, except Anthony, had been in the habit of granting a stay when assured that the case would be taken up.

Judge McConnell finally announced that he would defer decision until he could consult the other judges to find out on what authority they acted.

Kunze was then admitted to bail in the sum of $5000. The State's Autorney opposed the motion for bail, and subsequently contended for $20,000. Judge McC. nnell, however, did not coincide, and explained that he would have discharged Kunze if there were no new evidence against him. But the State's Autorney had informed him that there was some.

State's Autorney Longenecker intimated that if they let Kunze stay in jail a few days he might conclude not to bring him to trial at all, but let him go. He promised to trial at all, but let him go. He promised to trial at all, but let him go. He promised to trial at all, but let him go. He promised to the court and counsel know this week, and accordingly no effort will be made to get Kunze out on bail in the mean time.

A San Francisco exchange says:
In January last the railway companies of the United States paid about $46,800,000 in Interest, an increase of over 50 per cent, in interest payments made in January, 1888. For the whole year 1889 the excess in interest payments over that of 1888 amounted to $27,980,961. The dividend showing for the past year is not so favorable, the Railway Register estimating the decrease at $4,250, 310, or about 4 per cent. The first dividends of the year made a good showing, but the subsequent ones showed a bad falling off.
The interest and dividend payments which will be made this month will be far in excess of those of January, 1889. Many roads in which dividends were passed last year have a good fund to draw upon. Security-holders will receive $70,000,000 to $75,000,000 on their investments this month. There are quite a number of witnesses yet to be examined, and the case will be on trial again today. The evidence being cumulative, there may be some shortening of the case by stipulation, but that remains for adjust mont today.

They stated that the man was very poor, and had been employed by another party to sell the goods, and did not know that he was violating the law. They said that they had given the family a room, and that they had frequently been compelled to feed the family, consisting of the wife and three smail children. The infant had been entirely naked until a few days ago, when some of the people gave it some clothes, and if the man was locked up they did not know what would become of the family. The woman had been standing back from the crowd crying, and at this point came forward and showed the Judge the balf-clad infant. This settled the case, and without a word the Judge remitted the penalty of imprisonment and substituted a money fine, to be paid in the dim future, ordering the release of the prisoner. THE HOLIDAY RACES CON CLUDED YESTERDAY.

A very small crowd was in attendance yesterday to witness the running races at Agricultural Park. The races were very well contested, and should have been better patronized. The time in each race, considering the heavy track, was really fast. The first heavy track, was really fast. The first mile, had the track been in good condition, would have touched 1:42. The betters were out in force, and a good deal of money went into the pool box. The wheel of fortune revolved, only for the "cappers" for the game, no unwary mortals being found to invost their loose change on the turn of the wheel.

Main street, and on Sunday morning a couple of men showed up at a second-hand store on First street with the garment for sale. One of the men the pavement in front of the store. About this time a lad named George Appleton, a horse jockey, happened to pass along, and was looking in the store, when the man asked him what he wanted. He replied-thathe wanted to buy a pair of trousers.

Promptly at 2:30 p.m. the horses were called up for the first race of one mile. All seven of the entries faced the flag. Othello jumped off in the lead, with all the others in close attendance. Rounding the first turn, Painkiller got to the front, with Tom Daly at his flank. At the quarter it was Painkiller, Daly, Oro, and the rest bunched. At the half Painkiller led by two open lengths, the balance all in a bunch. They raced this way until the head of the stretch, when a whipping race was made for the wire. Davis, on Painkiller, to Many third. The others were all strung out, Four Aces, as usual, being lost in the shuffle, and galloping home about. 200 lengths behind the rest. Suit for foreclosure was filed by yards dash. The horses were soon off, with Welcome, for a wonder, in the lead; but he quit at the first turn, and Louisa M. took the lead, holding it to the finish. Welcome trailed along 60 yards in the rear until he reached the half-mile pole, when he took a notion to run, and started off like a whirl-wind. Within a hundred yards of the wire he went by all but the leader like a flash, and was only loseph Espitallier and Louis Schmidt, to secure judgment for $4000 and sale of certain property h Los Angeles, security for a promise results of the start he would have won handly. It is hoped the charge of blackmailing against Mr. Carl Browne, the illus-trious artist, will not be pressed. He may be guilty, as charged in the in-dictment, but a man who has already done as much for art ought not to be required to go to the pentientiary too.
Mr. Browne adorns everything that he touches, particularly if it is white; he leaves nothing as he finds it, unless it is very heavy indeed. Before his time art knew nothing of the reversible land-scape, the five-legged cow, the stream which run up hill, and the house which has had its hair cut. It was he, too, has had its hair cut. It was he, too, who invented (under Providence) the new method of wood engraving heretofore described in this paper. The block is smeared with worm oil and the design drawn upon it with ink of assafætida. When the picture is complete the block is hung up in a tree and the woodpeckers, attacking the light parts, leave the dark ones in high relief ready to print from.

Mr. Browne's perspective has been highly extolled by Prof. Davidson, one of the closest observers of earthquake phenomena that we have among us, but it is in his coloring that he comes out really strong. Nothing could be liner than the subtle barmonles which finer than the subtle harmonies which he produces with an arsenic-green sky brooding upon a carmine forest, beyond which a yellow sea rises steeply to the horizon, bearing two or three blue ships—a favorite subject which he has now the skill to paint with his eyes shut. Prof. Holden of the Lick Observatory said of one of Mr. Browne's nectures in which a noble range of nocturnes, in which a noble range of background to a constellation of liver-and-white stars, that he never saw anything so strange.

But this artist's greatest work is doubtens artist's greatest work is doubtless his panorama of "Hamlet's Soliloquy," in which the spectator stands in the middle of Hamlet and sees the soliloquy retiring by the coun-try roads toward all the joints of the mpass, thoroughly beaten and subexhibited as "the Battle of Gettys-burg," and was highly commended in art circles in Calistoga. Afterward it was shown as "Penelope at Her Leom," and is now, I believe, attracting considerable attention in the East as "the Petrified Forest."

ing out in great style. Since the new officers were elected, it has been casting about for a large room on the first floor of some prominent building in the business portion of the city, and yesterday it succeeded in finding such a place, and will proceed at once to fit up the finest establishment of the kind in the State.

The main object in securing such a place is to keep up a permanent exhibit of all the products of Southern California. The immense room, which is 40x100 feet, will be divided into offices for the secretary, the board of directors, a room for the woman's annex, which is to be added to the chamber, and a general exhibition room, which is to be divided into sec-tions. This room is to be the main feature of the institution, and as it is feature of the institution, and as it is to take in five of the principal counties of Southern California, there is no doubt but that it will be something for Los Angeles to be proud of.

The exhibits will be placed in cases around the walls and on long tables. All of the Southern California counties outside of Los Angeles will have an equal block of space, while Los Angeles county will have space for each section of the county that desires to come into the arrangement. Citrus fruits can be kept on exhibition eight fruits can be kept on exhibition eight months in the year, while canned fruits, wines, brandies, dried fruits and numerous other products can be kept there all the time. It is believed by the board of directors that one of the finest permanent exhibits that was ever established can be kept up in this

At present visitors have a very poor chance to judge of the products of Southern California, for the reason that they can examine nothing but the display made by fruit dealers, etc., and everybody knows that the average fruit dealer keeps an inferior quality of dealer keeps an inferior quality of fruit. Most of the fine fruit is shipped and the home people are required to eat the fruit that cannot be marketed anywhere else. This is one reason why one hears eastern people remark, after examining a fruit stand: "I don't believe the fruits we saw back East came from California."

The 'chamber proposes to do away with this, and it hopes, in the near future, to be able to convince eastern people that Southern California does not have to resort to trickery.

The State Board of Trade exhibit of San Francisco and "California on Wheels" will be kept supplied from the chamber's exhibit. The chamber will also have a room set aside for reading matter, and agents and runners will be sent out to notify tourists of the contents of the chamber, so that every one who comes to Los Angeles will have an opportunity of visiting the exhibit, and there will be some present all the time to show visiting the exhibit, and there will be some one present all the time to show visitors around. The room will also be well supplied with the best views obtainable, and everything will be conducted in the best possible manner.

Notes. Visalia has recently formed a cream-ery company to make butter and cheese

John Burcham, a prominent cattle-raiser and dealer, died at San Bernardino, January 3d.

The price of butter has, for various reasons, fallen to an unprecedentedly low figure in San Francisco.—[Ex. Richard O'Neill paid over $17,000 taxes on his cattle and Santa Margarita ranch in San Diego county in

A recent count of the stock on a ranch in Los Angeles county showed 35,000 cattle, 6000 horses, 4000 sheep and 2000 hogs.

Milk shipped to the markets of New York, Jersey City and Brooklyn now nets producers about 2t cents per quart on the average for the year.

A party of five gentlemen connected with the city government of Pasadena were at the Chino ranch on Wednesday, looking at horses for use in their fire department. They went away well pleased, and the result will probably be a sale of several fine, strong horses.—fChino Champion.

-[Chino Champion.

Bearing in mind that the stomach of a horse is small in proportion to the size of his frame, he requires feeding often, and, though three times a day is sufficient, four times is better. Unlike human beings, horses should drink before they eat, because, owing to the conformation of the horse, water does not remain in the stomach, but passes through into a large intestine called through into a large intestine called the cacum. If a horse be fed first, the water passing through the stomach would be likely to carry with it particles of food, and thus bring about colic. Whatever a groom may say, let a horse drink just as much as he likes. If he be watered four times a day he will never take very much, or too much. A horse, it must be re-membered, is fed on dry food, and this, with the strong work done, produces a feverishness which a sufficiency of water tends to allay.—[The American Breeder.

BUMBLE-FOOT is usually caused by jumping from high perches, which bruises the bottom of the foot. It may be cured, but it is easier to prevent it by having the perches low.

EXERCISE is necessary to the hens. If they do not get it from a sizable range they should be furnished it in the way of scratching. A manure pile or a spaded-up yard will do this.

Any material that can be cut up and fed to animals may be fed to poultry if very short (not over half an inch) and scalded. Ducks and geese do well on cut and crushed cornstalks, and in this way fattening is avoided, which in itself is an object—for too fat a fowl will not lay.

FINELY-POWDERED air-slacked lime freely dusted on the walls and floors of the poultry-house, is the best preventive of roup, and better than whitewash for disinfecting the premises. It also assists in drying the interior by absorbing moisture, and a lump of lime in the drinking water will also be of advantage. vantage.

"A TABLE Fowl Weighing 17 Pounds" is the startling heading which the Orange Post gives to an account of the Orange Post gives to an account of a bird at that place. It is an Australian emen, owned by Capt. Harthorn, who brought it out from its native country on his last voyage. He started with a pair, but lost the male by some accident from which it died. She lives peaceably with the chickens, is tame, and shows no fear. A full-grown one will weigh 175 pounds, and their flesh is said to be as white, tender and palatable as that of a capon. The feathers are also valuable and compare favorably with the ostrich, for which they are often sub-did a good work all the same, and deserves much credit for it, for he was the ploneer in his line. It was not his fault that his report was not full, for parties failed to respond to whom he sent his inquiries. Next time they will do better.

IF a bee-keepers' association is to be formed, we would suggest for its leader Mr. C. N. Wilson of Los Angeles. Although a lawyer by profession, he knows all about bees, and is their most erthusiastic advocate in this section. His legal talent, too, would come in well in the controversies that have unfortunately arisen between the beekeepers and the fruit-growers.

there is need of cooperation among the bee-keepers, and that the industry is suffering from the lack of it. He thinks there should be points of con-centration, where honey should be sent to be inspected and graded by a competent man, and that uniform prices should be fixed. This does seem important in view of the fact that the largest portion of our honey sold is for export, home consumption being comparatively small. Cooperation would furnish an interchange of ideas that could not fail to be beneficial, and would also undoubtedly improve the price. The MIRROR will take great pleasure in promoting its interests in this section. to be inspected and graded by a com

Mr. Bickenbach affirms that he has no fault to find with a climate which both he lations" to make concerning the "rob family have thoroughly enjoyed. His reason for going East is based entirely on family affairs.

The National Board of Trade reports considerable progress in the matter of arriving at a substantial proposition as to the methods that may be adopted for an extension of the membership and usefulness of the National Board. The committee publishes a table showing the status in commercial organizations of States and Territories. From this, it is learned that in 41 States and Territories there are 526 such organizations, having a membership of 96,121. ing up the membership of the order been organized during the past decade. lively discussion in the South. of any known time. The committee

Says:

That we have not done and are not already accomplishing this vitally important work, lies in the natural condition that local bodies are not yet aroused upon the subject of general organization, and that the full force and favor of associated capacity is not adequately appreciated, responsibility is not recognized, and there is no sense of duty among the factors of the great commercial commonwealth.

We find the land full of discontent and complaining. Our local bodies seem to be apprehensive that commercial stability and progress are threatened by over-legislation, by multiplicity of conflicting statutory regulations constantly tending to confusion, by loose laws and revolutionary tendencies, etc.

loose in a state of the control of t whole people derive and maintain existence.

Legislators are not so much to be blamed as we might, on first consideration, imagine, as they are but a natural result of the unnatural conditions that arise from neglect and disregard of social responsibilities, so that the real cause for dissatisfaction is that in the pursuit of individual aims and self-ishness, we lose sight of the greater requirements of our associated existence.

The committee finds that there is apparently a greater desire on the part of the organizations heard from to apparent willingness to contribute to its existence—through which local bodies may speak and find a hearing as search impossible. These variance of the production, trade and tree of the production, trade and tree of the production, trade and tree of the production immense membership are found to be without adequate general association, and it is considered worthy of effort that they be united for expression of sentiment and the pursuit of action upon questions of public commercial mportance. In urging such action, the committee states that "the country is everywhere raided in the interest of speculation and unsubstantial scheming, to the constant and increasing detriment of organized and permanent business operations, producing uncertainty and disaster, discontent and demoralization."

The plan upon which so great a work as this may be conducted is not yet fully developed, but the aim will be easily seen and appreciated. It is hoped tha very individual body in the country will have a voice as well as an interes n public affairs. The Executive Council of the National Board meets in Washington on the 6th of next month. and the chairman of the Committee on Extension and Representation expresses a desire to communicate with local boards previously to that time, in reference to any questions of the contemplated extension of organization It would certainly be a good idea for our Los Angeles Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce to open correspondence on this subject with the National Board.

THE SEWAGE QUESTION.

The Council having decided to submit the question of sewer bonds to the voters, it becomes incumbent upon us to again enter into the discussion of the desirability of the various proposed methods of sewerage. The subject is not altogether an inviting one, and many of our readers would doubtless rather be spared the infliction Still, in view of the magnitude of the interests at stake, we feel that no apology is needed for the renewed discussion of the subject. We constantly come across fresh proofs of the correctness of the position taken by THE TIMES regarding the value of sewage as applied to the land. In a paper read before the London Society of Arts on "London Sewerage and Sewage," Sir Robert Rawnson stated that the entire volume of the London sewage is now valued at $8,750,000 per annum. Land is not corrupted by sewage irrigation, but is improved, and the solids out of 100 tons spread over one acre of land would not give a surface deposit of 1-100th of an inch in thickness. In the discussion which followed the paper, European nations were looking to Eng-land for a solution of the question, and many of them had sent engineers over there to study what had been done. Paris had now a very successful duced most magnificent crops, and the effluent was so pure that any one could drink it, as he had done himself. In Berlin, also, where the authorities had sent engineers to study English sewage farming, they had now about 11,000 acres on the north and south, and not passing it through fitting soils.

In view of such facts as these and others which are constantly being disclosed, there is very little danger that the outfall section of the sewage plan will be approved by the voters of Los Angeles.

Collins says that he went to the place to sleep, and had just pulled a bale of hay out of the stack to get inside and fix a bed, when he saw a big blaze nx a ped, when he saw a big blaze shoot up behind him, and almost instantly a large man stuck a pistol in his face, and told him to get, saying that he intended to remain and be burned-up. Collins says that he did not stand on the order of going, but got out of the way. After he saw the fire in progress he are turned and exist. fire in progress he returned and assisted the people in trying to extinguish the flames. He says that he does not know what became of the man who threatened him, but he saw nothing of

GAME PRESERVES.

Sound Views of Col. Blanton Du

A perusal of the following extract from a speech recently made by Col. Blanton Duncan will show that game preserves are not established for the purpose of getting rid of game, because of the great expense, and also of the importance of a good game law, and a rigid enforcement of it after it has been enacted: has been enacted:

has been enacted:
"Any man is a benefactor who can cause two blades of grass to grow where only one grew last year. So if we can procure cheap food for the masses, not only do we benefit the poor, but we place within their reach luxuries which the poor of Europe can never hope to taste. Wherever the white man has taste. Wherever the white man has roamed he seems to have carried devastation with him, in respect to the existing fish and game, which so wonderfully filled the streams and domain of this country. The buffalo, which roamed by millions throughout the West less than a contury are in extinct and so than a century ago, is extinct; and so are the elk and the deer and the bear, which can only find refuge and sufety in the fastness which defies the hunt-er's approach. The feathered game is er's approach. The feathered game is likewise becoming a thing of the past; and soon, but for enactments and strict enforcement of the law, there will be neither fish nor game within 100 miles of Louisville.

A State and a people are only really great when they compel obedience to law from rich and poor alike. In the older countries the aristocraey have gained the supremacy, and there the preservation of game is for the amusement and pleasure of the rich and ment and pleasure of the rich and powerful. There are vast tracts of and exclusively surrendered for the purpose of raising game. The lands thus held simply for amusement in Great Britain alone have a yearly rental value of over $20,000,600. One rich American, Ross Winaus, rented a Scotch moor for the enjoyment of his friends at $40,000 ayear. They shot grouse and stalked deer. It is estimated the state of the state o mated that every pheasant, partridge or grouse raised on preserves costs the owner over $1.50 per head. One can readily perceive how little game can readily perceive how little game can even find its way into the mouths even of the moderately independent fam or the inductacy independent ramilies. In the fish preserves the same is the case, and the cost of salmon and such fish is too high for any but the rich. The poor must take the classes of fish which are caught by shiploads and salted down.

"Now one of the necessary results of your efforts must be to increase largely the production of game and fish, and when you do that the cost is lessened the production of game and fish, and when you do that the cost is lessened so as to place their use upon the table of the humblest among us. When I was a boy the waters of the Ohio and all other streams were filled with the finest game fish. It was an easy feat any day to catch enough on Rock Island to last a family a week, and as for game, all along the river bank quall swarmed, so that a bag of 60 was a common thing. The snipe, woodcock and the dozen varieties of plover and curlew were found on all our commons riending from Twelfth street was the dozen with the finest game in mystad, and the dozen with the finest game in mystad, and the dozen varieties of plover and curlew were found on all our commons riending from Twelfth street was the dozen with the finest game in mystad, and the dozen with that manner would commit murder with dynamite when chance revenge prompted crime. It should be the duty of this club to prosecute all such offenders especially; and to seek the welfare of the people by enforcing every game enactment, and so protect us finally from a privileged class, who in that manner mystad all existing in a wild state.

"We should not make the mistake of opposing those who seek now to We should not make the mistake

"We should not make the mistake of opposing those who seek now to create new fields by their own exertion, and legitimately to enjoy the proceeds. Several parties West are asking farmers to rent them the privilege of shooting over tracts, where game will be sent and carefully looked after. In all such cases thousands of birds will escape the shooters, and go into surrounding shooters and go into surrounding farms. And so year by year great abundance of game will be created. In like man-ner as at Port Deposit, the digging of a beautiful lake of half a mile will not a beautiful take of nair a mile will not only result in stocking that neighbor-hood with vast numbers of the finest fish for the amusement of the owners, but the great quantity caught will find their way into the market, and so benefit the public.

An Undiscovered Gold Mine.

An Undiscovered Gold Mine.

There is a mine of gold near Elsinore which has not yet been discovered, that will make some lucky man ten times a millionaire. It is known to exist by the pieces of floating gold found in the little guiches up river from the station, some of them as large as a man's thumb nail. The ledge is undoubtedly covered out of sight by drifts and slides, but is sure to be found within the next few years by some one. One prospector picked up many small pieces of gold in a little guich near the station the other day after the rain had been washed over the bed rock. There are no genuine prospectors searching for it, but "a greenhorn for luck," and we expect to chronicle the discovery of the traditional "Round Hill" mine before many more moons.

Reception at the White House. Washington, Jan. 14.—The first of the evening state receptions of President Harrison's administration was quite a brilliant affair. It was given in honor of the diplomatic corps, whose members attended more generally than usual. This fact is in part attributable to the presence of delegates to the Pan-American conference, many of whom had never witnessed an event of the kind in this country. Among those present were members of the Cabinet, nearly all the Justices of the Supreme Court, many Senators and Representatives and a large number of october prominent offici is. The Fresident was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Morton and nearly all the ladies of the households of members of the Cabinet.

A Street Duel in Which Three Persons Get Hurt. MACON (Mo.), Jan. 14.-; By the Associated Press.] In a street fight today with revolvers between Morris Norris and Dr. W. G. Larribee, three persons were wounded, two of them, it is feared, fatally. The fight was caused by a dispute over a bill in nght was caused by a dispute over a bit in Dr. T. J. Norris's drug store between the proprietor and Dr. Larribee. The latter refused to pay the bill, claiming an error After some words had passed, Dr. Norri-ordered Dr. Larribee from the store. The latter soon returned, and called the proprietor to the sidewalk. Morris Norris, the Doctor's son, feared trouble, and grasping his father a revolver from the counter, followed his father to the sidewalk. Dr. Norris had no sooner reached the payement than Dr. Larribee drew a revolver and cothan Dr. Larribee drew a revolver and com-menced firing. Morris Norris returned the fire and shot Dr. Larribee on the left arm and right leg. Deptity Sheriff Peason was hit by a stray bullet, which entirely, passed through his body, producing a fatal wound. Another bullet struck S. M. Wig-gins, a farmer, in the leg, inflicting a slight wound.

Snowslides Causing Much Damage in the Sierras - Col. Crocker Coming to Molave.

By Telegraph to The Times. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—[By the Asso-ciated Press.] Neil Breslin, alias John Kenny, the youngest of the six prisoners who escaped from the County Jail early Sunday morning, was captured this morn-ing by Deputy Sheriff Williams and a posse. ing by Deputy Sheriff Williams and a posse. He was found hiding under a bed in a water-front boarding-house. He says the prisoners planned the escape for three weeks, and about 7 o'clock on Saturday night started to dig their way out with table-knives which they had used at their meals and secreted in their clothes. While in the corridor, Deputy Sheriff Hoey made a tour of the iail their clothes. While in the corridor, Deputy Sheriff Hoey made a tour of the jail but did not observe them, as they were hid ing behind a woodpile. They then took turns in digging their way through the outside wall. Buslin says so far as he knows none of the party had money or weapons. He himself had been without food since leaving the jail.

THE LONE HIGHWAYMAN. Frank Williams Identified as the

Much-sought Man. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Four men from Placer county appeared at the County Jail today for the purpose of identifying Frank Williams, recently arrested here on a charge of iams, recently arrested here on a charge of robbing numerous stages in the interior of California, and especially in the northern part of the State. Two of the men met Williams on the road and talked with him the night before the robbery of the stage near Auburn last month. The other two men, one the stage driver and the other a passenger, positively identified Williams, although his face was partly masked, as the man who pulled a gun on them on the night of that robbery. During the identification Williams coolly grinued, chewed tobacco and said the gentlemen must certainly be mistaken. He has now been identified as the "Lone Highwayman" who robbed at least three stages.

Col. Crocker Goes East. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.-Col. C. F. Crocker, second vice-president of the Southern Pacific Company, left tonight in a private car for New York. He goes by way of Portland. In reply to a query Col. Crocker said there was no reason for any disruption at present of the existing harmony between the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Companies. He was inclined to think that the Union Pacific would build to Mojave very soon. The Southern Pacific Company would regard this as hostile to its interests. Meeting of the Interstate Commerce Association.

New York, Jan. 14.—By the Associated Press. | An important meeting of the Interstate Commerce Association was begun this morning, which will probably decide whether the association shall continue its existence. The organization is a year old, and is better known as the "gentlemen's garreement." Rumors of cutting of rates have been rife, and this will be the matter discussed. The decision of Chairman Walker holding that the traffic arrangement between the Union Pacific and Northwestern was not in violation of the agreement, will also come up. The meeting is being held belind closed doors of Indefinitely by the associations of a committee, consisting of Commissioners Walker, Faithers and Migley, to consider measures necessary to the perpetuation of the association, and to report at the next quarterly meeting. The prevented the airing of grievances at the meeting, and everything passed off harmoniously. An adjournment was taken shortly after loclock, without any other questions of importance coming before the body.

The official report of the meeting given out by Chairman Walker says that a resolution by Miller, providing for the appointment of a committee of chairmen of the chances recommended in the form of the chances recommended in the form of the corganization necessary to produce more satisfactory results and secure more general cooperation, was adopted. When such report is completed the committee shall call a general meeting to act on it. The executive board as at present constituted was continued until the next quarterly meeting. WE move on. SIX HUNDRED AND SEVENTEEN to fixty for the bonds.

PASADENA has added a priceless gem to her crown: a Public Library.

The Park Commissioners met yesterday and are prepared to receive bids. This project'is a most important one for the city to entertain. The tournament organized by the Valley Hunt demonstrated beyond the possibility of a doubt that a park of some kind would be appreciated by the peo-ple. Two locations are being talked of: one near Marceline, the natural park around the famous Wilson Canon. and a tract in the northern portion of the city, owned by Mr. Painter.

YESTERDAY was an important one in the career of this city. It was the first election after a period of extreme depression, at which the people were ask-ed to add to their bonded indebtedness and taxation. The question was, Shall we have a library? But there was one of greater importance underlying it, will she show the white-feather or will she rebound from the period of desion and move on to continued and increasing success and prosperity? This question was well answered at the mass-meeting Monday night, and yesterday the people rallied at the polls and announced to the world that Pasadena proposes not only to keep apace with other cities, but to take the lead, and as a first step she acquires a $23,-000 library building, the finest edifice of the kind west of Chicago, and donates it to the public, tourists, visitors

THE library building which the city has recently acquired is not simply a repository for books, it having been designed to meet the requirements of a scientific museum, as well. Several years ago an academy of sciences was established here for the purpose of interesting the people of the city in the flora, fauna, mineral and other resources of the region. The members of the society nearly all own collections of some kind. Dr. Carr has a line tions of some kind. Dr. Carr has a line collection of fossils, well representing the paleontology of New York State; Delos Arnold owns a fine zoölogical cabinet; Mr. Rust has one of the finest private collections of Indian implements in the country, and at least fifty others have specimens and cabinets, which, if brought together, would give us a modulers of collections of the finest private collections of Indian implements in the country, and at least fifty others there is generally misunderstood. It is simply a severe cold, complicated with neuralgic or rheumatic troubles, and unless other complications ensue, brought together, would give us a scientific museum that will not have many equals in the West. The Academy of Sciences has held together, hoping that the new library would be fluished, and now that the bonds have passed will probably be able to give Pasadena a collection which will be of great importance as an educational and scientific feature.

THE OPINIONS OF LOCAL PHY-SICIANS ON "LA GRIPPE."

Is the Genuine Article in Pasadena? -A Diversity of Opinion on the Effect of Climatic Conditions,

Is there a genuine case of la grippe in Pasadena? Is the disease likely to become prevalent here? Are the local Tourists, guests and visitors are in-formed that the Public Library of this spread? Such questions the physi-

I regard the climate of California as an important factor in keeping off the malady, and feel sure it will not be as severe here as it has been in the East. Health Officer McAllister: There are a few cases of la grippe here now and more are coming. The germs of the disease are in the air. In the rotation of the carth, or its avia way as liable to the in the air. In the rotation of the earth on its axis we are liable to run across some of the infected atmosphere, no matter how much it may be modified by various currents. Climate has comparatively little to do with warding off the affection.

Dr. Swearingen: I don't believe you can find a genuine case of la grippe in the city at the present time, but I fully expect to see it before many days have elapsed. The climate, in my opinion, has little effect on the prevalence of such an epidemic, and I cannot see how Pasadena is going to escape.

The views of Dr. Newman have already been expressed in a paper read by him at a recent meeting of the Medical Society, and subsequently published in part in The Times. Dr. Newman's view of the matter in brief is that there are some existing local cases of la grippe, although none have come under his personal observation, and that the malady will undoubtedly prevail here before long to a greater extent.

Dr. Philbrook said: "I am of the opinion that there are an unusual number of cases of a mild form of inso-called cases of la grippe in town are, I think, forms of the ordinary influenza that are found here each winter. One of my patients was, however, seriously ill for a time with the aliment, and unless other complications ensue, it seldom proves fatal. The malady is sure to come this way, and the elimatic conditions will have but little effect upon it. Dr. Van Slyck: While there are but few if any cases of la grippe in Pasa-dena now, I don't see how we are go-ing to escape. The disease has reached the Pacific Coast, and before many days have gone by we are likely to see it here. The climate has not much to

Dr. Arthur: I have just returned from an eastern trip, and am not therefore prepared to say whether or not la grappe is in our community. While I believe it will prevail here in a mild form, there is no cause for alarm. The climate has little or no effect upon the disease.

Dr. Sherk: I don't believe there are ountry.

"I arrived in California in Decemer," he said. "I came expecting auch of the country—in fact, I was an inthusiast on this part of the United tates as a place of residence, although I had never before visited it. Vell, I arrived in a rainstorm. It

Yesterday the Board of Supervisors visited town for the purpose of deciding upon the best remedy for doing away with the trouble. The entire ground was covered and numerous plans discussed. The one, however, that meets with most favor is to drain one portion of the water west into the arroyo, and the remaining portion in an easterly direction to the Eaton Cañon, thus carrying the water east of Lamanda Park.

THE GARVANZA BRIDGE. The toll bridge crossing the arroyo at Garvanza, which came nearly being completely washed away by the recent floods, and which is controlled by Ralph Rogers, has been offered by that gentleman to the Board of Supervisors for $3000. That is for the above amount the county will be granted what is left of the bridge and the right of way to operate the same. Some time ago Mr.

Rogers asked the Supervisors $7000 for the bridge, which offer was refused.
Now that the figures have been cut less than half numerous residents of Pasadena and South Pasadena think that the purchase should be made.

To urge the matter a committee composed of citizens from both boroughs will appear before the Board of Superwin appear in Los Angeles tomorrow. It was stated in town yesterday that the reported repairs now in progress at the bridge, under the direction of Mr. Rogers, are all a myth; in fact, Mr. Rogers has done nothing to the struc-

After the 2:17 afternoon train to Los Angeles has separated, it is a game of "perhaps you do and perhaps you don't," if you want to go to that place. Monday night's overland glided in shortly after midnight, or about eight hours late, and yesterday's overland did not arrive until long after sunset. Another trouble is the bulletin board is not reliable. When it tells how late a train is, you can usually add an hour and then have time to spare. PROPLE'S STORE,

WEDDERDAY, Jan. 15, 1830.

Our stock is always on the unove Price is the power that makes it go, and nothing else in the world can do it. It really amuses us to hear so much cry of dull times, while we are on the jump from morning until night. The store that interests the largest number of oustumers is the one which provides for every-body's wants, as we keep almost every article necessary for man, woman or child, and as the prices are being lost track of altogether during our present great gift sale, our stores are crowded all day long. We don't keep account of how much we have reduced the prices of goods; we don't want to; for it might scare us a little, and if we got scared you wouldn't get all the bargains you're getting now. We look only at one thing: That is, getting the goods out of the house, and they're going out mighty fast, too. Every customer that carries away a bundle of goods during the sale gets some very pretty and useful glassware for nothing to carry away with it. We gave away about fifty barrels yesterday, and we've lots more for today—large pieces and more var-ety—some of them just opened for today. Not a solitary piece of it will be sold. All of it is to be given away free. Our bargains today cellipse any yet offered during the sale. Come today, sure, and bring a big market basket to carry away the glassware.

We have just received our siver-medal market basket to carry away the glassware. We have just received our silver-medal borax Soap for family use, put up in boxes of Sockes each; only $1.15 a box.
